Bahrain

Shura Council to vote on amendments to infrastructure levy law

As per news reports, the Shura Council is set to vote on three sets of proposed amendments which feature a cap on collected tax and exemption on new residential projects, places of worship, societies and cemeteries.

Bahrain VAT rate increase

The National Bureau for Revenue (NBR) is yet to issue transitional rules for the VAT rate increase. However, with less than 30 working days to the proposed increase of the VAT rate to 10% effective 1 January 2022, business can already take steps to ensure they are prepared well before the effective date. KPMG Bahrain conducted a webinar in October on what businesses should be doing - click here to access the recording of the webinar as well as the presentation.

Businesses may have taken VAT costs less seriously as errors at 5% or the inability to claim input VAT may have not had a material impact on their finances. However, with the rate set to double, VAT should become a material consideration for most businesses because errors and the inability to claim input VAT is likely to have a significant impact. Whilst we await the transitional rules from the NBR, the KPMG Bahrain tax team have prepared a number of Tax Insights to assist Bahrain businesses as they prepare for the VAT rate increase:
